CURIOSITY KILLED THE CAT

I can explain. I was just an ordinary indoor cat. But then I saw it...

What kind of bird is that? Why is it blue? Where did it come from?

Who cares? It's just a bird.

I needed to learn more about that bird.
Alright, to the library. You're an indoor cat. You can't go out there. You're going to get in so much trouble!

Well, just a little bit more and I won't be an indoor cat.

There must be more out there for a cat.

I DID IT!

Nope, not this book. Or this book!

Yes! Here it is!

The Blue Jay
A Blue Jay! Wow!

Look at its wings! I wonder how it can fly like that? I want to fly like that.

Well it's unique. But will it work?

It's a plastic bag. It will never work.

I'll never know unless I try. 1, 2, Just a little more... 3!
I flew everywhere. I kept saying...

Just a little big more...

Curious what else I could see.
It was going great until...

Yes, I was curious.
I asked a lot of question.
Looked for answers.
But with the help of my imagination I was able to explore the world and learn so much.
You see, curiosity definitely, did not kill the cat.

And well, that’s my story.
My real story.

Now, excuse me.
I think I should be getting back home.
What kind of bird is that?

Where did it come from?
